TRADING CORPORATION OF PAKISTAN (PRIVATE) LIMITED

Objectives of the Corporation

The Trading Corporation of Pakistan Limited (TCP) was set up as a private limited company in July, 1967, registered under Companies Act, 1913 (now Companies Act, 2017). The shares of the Corporation are owned by the Ministry of Commerce, Government of Pakistan. It was the first move by the Government to introduce state trading in the country to achieve the following objectives:-

- Achieve economy of scale by handling bulk transactions; secure advantages of price, freight and port-handling expenses, and prevent leakage of foreign exchange through such malpractices as over/under invoicing, etc.
- Stabilize market conditions and neutralize effect of high market prices resulting from unwarranted escalation by private importers and, ipso facto, act as a check on disparity between import prices and scarcity prices.
- TCP act to intervene in the market to forestall shortages of essential commodities and provide the same to the common man at affordable prices. Its price support initiatives are meant to ensure that growers receive fair price for their agricultural products.

Board and Corporate Information

The Management of the Corporation is vested in a Board of Directors comprising a Chairman who is the Chief Executive of the Corporation along with. Six(04) Directors nominated by the Government of Pakistan and Five (05) Independent Directors on the board. The Chairman being Chief Executive is responsible for over-all management and operations of the Corporation. For day-to-day operations, the Board has delegated some of its powers to the Executive Committee consisting of all full-time Executive Directors.

Vision

TCP shall serve the nation as a highly motivated corporate entity responsive to national needs and modern trading challenges.

Mission

- Development of corporate structures managed by professionals.
- Continuous human resources development.
- Development of web, IT-based operational environment.
- Ensure total transparency and zero tolerance for corrupt practices.
- Optimal use of resources and economy in operations without compromising quality.
- Continuous update on national and international markets.
- Capacity enhancement.

Situation Judgment test is a type of assessment where the candidate assumes the role of the incumbent of the position and must deal with another person in a job-related situation.

❖ Observations

Reporting Managers/Officers or Divisional Heads may put forward their observations/recommendations in the Training Need Assessment Forms (attached in Annexure J) based on the employees' performance evaluation conducted annually or on the feedback/observations taken on employee's performance at the workplace.

Training Need Analysis (TNA)

TCP shall ensure training need analysis activity is conducted in the start of each calendar year. It is a tool which is used to systematically identify development needs of employees and integrate them with divisional and organisational requirements.

Training needs analysis (TNA) shall be conducted in consultation with the respective divisional head with an objective of gap identification between current knowledge, performance, and skills of the respective employees and the required competencies for their current position as well as to prepare them for a possible role in the future.

Human Resource Division shall be responsible for providing formal TNA Questionnaire (attached as Annexure J) during the performance appraisal cycle conducted on an annual basis.

Divisional Heads/Reporting Managers shall be responsible to utilize the TNA Questionnaire in presence of the concerned employee(s) to ensure that required competencies and individual/divisional needs are identified in relation to the employee's present job responsibilities and required areas of the upcoming assignments/tasks.

❖ Competency Assessment Analysis:

This tool is used to foresee potential successors and develop succession plans. The Divisional Head in consultation with Human Resource Division shall identify potential successors for all critical positions within the Corporation and shall suggest training and development programs to enhance the knowledge/skills of specific individuals to qualify them for the next role.

❖ Performance Appraisal Mechanism:

Head of Division shall highlight the areas of improvement in the TNA form after performance evaluation exercise of all employees. Human Resource Division shall review the form and by mutual consent the training objectives shall be designed according to the gap identified between current competency and desired outcome with the help of both Performance Evaluation Report and Training Need Assessment Form (attached in Annexure J).

It is the responsibility of Human Resource Division to correlate these requirements with the training calendar of current year in order to address the training requirements of the employee and in cases where a scheduled training program does not address the requirements, an external training program on individual or group level may be recommended with the approvals of Divisional Head or Executive Director.

Avenues of Trainings

The Human Resource Division shall organize training(s) as per following methods:

❖ Internal/On the Job Trainings:

Job Shadowing

Job shadowing is a type of On-the-job training . It could be used as a component of a development program or career onboarding process in which the nominee shall be shadowed with an experienced/senior employee who possess the required knowledge.

The objective shall align with the Corporation's plan and minimize financial cost that would incur on training activity using job shadowing method.

- It is an effective method to fill a talent gap in an organisation without having to pay the higher cost of hiring someone from outside or sending the employees outside the Corporation.

Orientation:

Newly inducted employees shall be given a short orientation session to familiarize them with the functions of the Corporation, activities, policies, procedures, assignments and projects. This type of training program may be arranged on individual basis or group training, subject to the number of participants (inductees) available.

The duration and contents of the session is determined to meet the needs of newly hired individuals in consultation with respective divisional heads/reporting managers depending on the type of job he/she shall be assigned. The schedule and duration of Orientation training shall vary as per the requirements.

Job Rotation/ Enrichment:

In this mode of training the employee shall get an opportunity to have on-job exposure / training in diversified field within or outside his own division as per need.

Job rotational assignments shall be given in such cases as follows:

- To fill a vacancy.
- To have a general development program in line with career planning which may add additional role pertaining to his skills and competencies.
- To groom a person for a particular position in line with a succession plan.

❖ External / Off the Job Trainings:

In-House Trainings:

• In the event that a large number of employees are identified who require exposure, growth, or comprehension of a particular topic, in-house training courses and workshops shall be held either by the heads of divisions or by experienced employees who have the required expertise or guest speakers may be invited within the Corporation as and when required.

The heads of divisions shall send in suggestions or nominate a particular speaker for these trainings or workshops.

Local/Domestic Training Opportunities Outside the Corporation:

• Human Resource Division shall identify any such training opportunities which enhance the capacity of the employees in their area of function in consultation with divisional heads.

International / Foreign Trainings:

• For acquiring specialized skills, the Corporation nominates employees as per specified criteria for training with international and reputed training institutions. Nominations are made for suitable courses and seminars abroad if such opportunities are offered by foreign governments or international institutions to Pakistan through the Ministry of Finance or the Ministry of Commerce and Trade Resources. The selection criteria mentioned as follows:-

- ❑ Employee from Grade-X and above shall be eligible for Foreign Trainings.
- ❑ Permanent Employees must complete at least three (03) years of service including one year service on management position within the Corporation.
- ❑ Employee is not involved in any disciplinary action against any prohibited behavior in the Corporation since the announcement of the training.

5.3 Process and Procedure

Step 1: Identifying Training Needs

A requirements analysis is the initial stage and the very first step in creating a training and development program. The evaluation starts with a "need," which may be defined in a variety of ways but is typically thought of as a discrepancy between what is already in place and what shall be required both now and in the future. Among the variances or inconsistencies that might cause gaps within the functionality of the Corporation are:

The difference between what the Corporation anticipates and what occurs.

Competencies and abilities that are currently present and can be learned.

The performance goals and performance shown for the work at hand.

The training needs shall be identified using the Training Needs Assessment (TNA) form (attached in Annexure J) upon distributing them to the employees by the Human Resource Division. It shall be filled and submitted in specified time frame as suggested by the Human Resource Division. These filled TNA forms shall be reviewed by the Human Resource Division once received from the employees.

Human Resource shall use following methods for collecting the data that can be used to gather information about employee training and development needs:

- Reviewing the training needs assessment forms
- Reviewing the outcomes of last two (02) Performance Reviews of the nominated employees.
- One-on-one interview(s)/session(s) with the nominated employee(s).

- Focus groups: a group which meets to discuss a specific issue in a structured way with a facilitator.
- Observation of employee's performance at work by their managers and/or training specialist.

The list of participants of the upcoming trainings shall then be shared with the respective Divisional Heads/Executive Directors for approval. The Human Resource Team shall consolidate all the training needs identified through the training need assessment (attached in Annexure A) and the performance evaluation ratings of the specific employees to develop a corporation wide training plan as per the training calendar and training budget allocated for the same year.

Step 2: Setting Training Objectives:

In response to the identified training needs, the Human Resource Division shall define certain training objectives for the year. It must be ensured that the training objectives are:

Step 3: Establish and Communicate the Training Calendar and Plan:

Once the analysis of training needs has been done and the training objectives have been defined, a comprehensive training plan shall be compiled by the Human Resource Division. The training plan shall consist of an outline of the suggested course(s)/ program(s), the course content (technical, corporate goals, business strategy and soft skills trainings), proposed dates and a budget for the costs of the training programs.

The Human Resource Division shall also specify the learning outcomes of each training program, mandatory training courses and mandatory minimum training hours' requirements for each level of employee as specified in the policy. The training plan shall be distributed to all divisional heads with guidelines on the process of nomination and application for training courses.

Step 4: Design Training

In case of internal trainings, the Human Resource Division shall send an email to all the division heads at least two (02) weeks before a training course is due to start. The email shall set out the procedure for nominating the participants. After receiving the list of participants, the Human Resource Division shall initiate the administrative arrangement of the plan.

In external training opportunities, Human Resource Division shall circulate the respective brochure for the offered available training via email and collect responses as per the required seats. The selection shall be based on first in first serve basis to avoid any biasness and favoritism among the employees of TCP. The training cost shall be monitored under the allocated budget of the calendar year.

Step 5: Training Evaluation:

The employee receiving training shall fill the Training Evaluation Form (attached in Annexure K) immediately after the completion of training. The report shall analyze in detail the key points learnt by the trainee, shortcomings observed and how they can be improved. To measure the productivity from the perspective of the Corporation, the immediate reporting manager of the employee receiving that training shall make an assessment report. The assessment report shall highlight how the performance / skill set of the employee has improved after the training and how it has impacted the division's productivity.

Employees from Grade-X and above who want to attend international conferences or training sessions following procedure shall be followed:

- Training requirements are identified by Executive Director/Human Resource Division.
- The Human Resource Division shall assess the budget and the training material.
- Human Resource Division shall decide tentative dates, accommodation, booking venues etc., subject to the approval of the Chairman TCP.
- In case of international trainings and conferences, employees shall not be allowed to skip or be absent from the training without prior approval of the Chairman TCP in case of proven genuine grounds.

5.4 Roles and Responsibilities

The training and development process shall be managed by the Human Resource Division of the Corporation using a standard procedure for all eligible employees in consultation with the Divisional head / Executive Director.

The responsibilities of Human Resource Division shall include but is not limited to the following:

- Identifying training needs by initiating training need analysis process.
- Providing advice and assistance to the Division Heads / General Manager in defining training needs of their teams, designing and developing training programs based on those needs.
- Obtaining information relating to formal training and educational courses at various institutions within the country for the identified needs.
- Preparing a formal annual training program and maintaining the budgets and training schedules.
- Coordinate with the Reporting Manager in conducting respective training programs of their division(s).
- Helping Reporting Manager in the selection and training the trainers to act as a facilitator.
- Evaluating the effectiveness of trainings (ROI on trainings).

Line Management (Divisional Head / Executive Director):

- Identify employees who shall be included in the training need assessment process.
- Coordinate with Human Resource team in the training need assessment exercise by ensuring completion and proper submission of TNA forms (attached in Annexure J).
- Ensuring that all employees in the division have an equal opportunity to have the required training to deliver their jobs.
- Monitoring the post training performance of the employees to evaluate training effectiveness.
- Ensure smooth coordination with Human Resource Division for training venues, material, and overall logistics of training of employees of the respected division

PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

CHAPTER 6 - PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

Preface

The Corporation is committed to providing support in improving its employees' performance and reaching their full potential with a specified process followed by the Human Resource Division.

The performance management policy is applicable to all employees of TCP i.e., permanent, deputationist and contractual employees.

- The performance evaluation exercise is a fair, timely and equitable process for all employees of TCP.

- A review/evaluation shall be carried out to observe, monitor, record employees' performance and progress in achieving their assigned targets and goals which shall lead to feedback and guidance for their development.

It is the responsibility of the Corporation to help its employees to understand their roles clearly to make them contribute to the Corporation to the best of their abilities.

For this purpose, performance evaluation process and its management are crucial as well as most beneficial for all the employees based on their Performance Indicators and set goals.

- It helps the employees to have opportunities to improve their capabilities to be more efficient and productive in their short-term and long-term goals.

- There shall be a condition for all employees to serve at least three (03) months at a particular post for the purpose of undergoing performance evaluation.

The policy may be revised, ammended, or modified by the Board of Directors.

TRADING CORPORATION OF PAKISTAN (PVT.) LIMITED

Chapter: Performance Management

Policy

- a) Performance Evaluation of each employee of TCP should be conducted annually for a calendar year and involves the employee, his/her Reporting Officer, and Countersigning authority.
- b) The approach to conduct the process of evaluating employee's performance shall emphasize both self-assessment of the employee and the feedback of his/her Reporting Officer / Countersigning authority.
- c) A half yearly assessment of the annual targets should be done by the reporting officers for all those reporting to them for feedback and continuous improvement (attached in Annexure-C).
- d) This activity should be clearly communicated to all the employees in terms of setting clear goals and the indicators to achieve those goals/targets, so the employees are directed towards a high standard performance and therefore must be encouraged to put their best foot forward.
- e) In order to be considered for acting charge and/or for promotion criteria, participating in the Annual Performance Evaluation process is mandatory for all employees.
- f) The employees availing ex-pakistan leave/ extra ordinary leaves/ study leave as well leaves availed within Pakistan for a period of less than one (01) year, shall only be considered for promotion on their return and submission of Performance Evaluation Form (attached in Annexure L) of one (01) completed calendar year as well as training evaluation report for the completion of training shall be necessary.

6.1 Purpose of Performance Evaluation

The purpose of performance evaluation shall be:

Purpose of Performance Evaluation Process

To identify improvement and learning areas of all the employees individually which allow them to contribute more effectively towards Corporation's goals.

To recognize the strengths of employees in their service, encouraging them to enhance their skills and competencies in the relatively weak areas of their performance.

To identify trainings needs of all the divisions of TCP aligning them with the current and future work plans.

To provide an opportunity for the employee and employer to exchange their views on the set goals, facilitate communication regarding actual and expected performance, real-time monitoring and development.

Maintaining employee motivation and satisfaction through constructive feedback.

Improving employee retention upon mutual cooperation by both employee and the Corporation.

The outcomes of performance evaluation shall help the Corporation in the future in following ways:

 Outcomes of Performance Evaluation Process	To determine performance-based benefits, when applicable.
	Succession planning if any vacancy occurs.
	Promotion, or training of employees.
	Documentation of employee improvement and continuous performance management.
	Performance and productivity gap minimization.

6.2 Purpose of Performance Evaluation

The performance evaluation has four individual components to ensure achievement of goals throughout the year of the review period. The components are:

1. Probationary Period Assessment

As soon as employees report to their reporting officers in TCP, as part of their orientation, reporting officers shall help them get familiar with their expected job tasks, expectations, and goals which they must look forward to meeting during their probationary period.

- At the end of the probationary period, the initial performance assessment shall take place using their job description as a basic checklist for their skill assessment.
- The positions where there is no job descriptions, their respective reporting officer shall need to identify such employee's service standards and job role which shall then be evaluated for demonstration of their set goals and targets, at the end of their probationary period.
- In either case, the checklist or documented job role must be signed and dated by the person conducting the evaluation/ assessment.

2. Goal Setting for the Annual Evaluation

The reporting officers shall clearly define employee's targets and tasks for the upcoming annual evaluation.

3. Half Yearly Progress Check

The reporting officer of the employee (under review) shall take a formal follow up after six (06) months to analyze the progress of the goals set in the initial assessment and provide feedback as and where required through a form attached in Annexure-C.

4. Annual Performance Evaluation

The annual performance evaluation of all employees shall be initiated as per the procedure mentioned in the following pages of this policy which shall also serve as an initial basis for the identification of employees.

CHAPTER 9:

GRIEVANCES

CHAPTER 9 - GRIEVANCES

Preface

Management and employees of TCP are encouraged to resolve any disputes, claims or complaints relating to their employment internally. It is meant to offer a fair and prompt mechanism for dealing with these concerns in their entirety. An employee's statement of claimed conflicts, unfair or inequitable treatment in relation to the implementation of rules and regulations, policies, and procedures, is often referred to as "Grievance". TCP is committed to providing an equitable platform to its employees for resolution of their genuine complaints, grievances, or problems for a better and conducive working environment that ensures equal progress opportunity to its employees in the larger interest of the Corporation.

Grievance may be about any act, omission, situation, or decision that an employee thinks is unfair, discriminatory, or unjustified towards him/her. Those issues which the employee has not been able to settle through his or her line manager/reporting person can be brought to the notice of Human Resource Division by formally filing a grievance so the management can process it through proper channel for resolution, after completing the due grievance redressal process.

- By implementing this policy, TCP's Management intends to ensure that cordial and friendly relationships prevail between the employees and with the management of the Corporation.
- It is expected to create an organizational culture where each employee may reach the Human Resource Division to have his/her concerns or complaints resolved without the fear of any reprisal.
- This policy is applicable to all permanent, contractual, or temporary employees of the Corporation.
- The management shall not discriminate against any employee who elects to use the grievance procedure as prescribed in this policy.
- The Human Resource Division is responsible to initiate the processing of filed grievances in a transparent manner and shall take the matter as highly confidential.

The employee can raise a grievance if following (but not limited to) conditions/situations of such nature/category occurs to any of the employee of TCP:

Discrimination in promotion, training, and other HR related matters

Unethical work environment

Health and safety related issues

Harassment, assault, or bully in any form

Dispute / grievances against coworkers, or management

9.1 Classification of Grievances

Following is the broad classification of grievances which may vary based on the nature of each grievance:

Individual Grievance

The exact procedural approach to process a grievance depends on its classification, and whether it is raised by an individual or a group. Individual grievances are raised by a single employee. The grievance shall relate to an aspect of their personal employment or related to workplace.

Group/Collective Grievance

If two (02) or more employees raise the same issue/complain as one (01) group/collective grievance with the management of TCP, it is known as Group/Collective Grievance, it shall be signed by all involved parties and shall be submitted in written form/E-mail.

The procedure for following-up a collective grievance is generally similar to which is recommended in the individual grievance mentioned in the procedure of this policy, and usually involves conducting an investigation to assess the situation(s) leading to its occurrence, followed by meetings focused on reaching to a resolution.

Policy Grievance

A Policy Grievance is raised by the employees of TCP that a certain action/decision of the management of TCP (or its failure or refusal to act) is a violation of the TCP's rule/policies which has affected or may affect the employees. This grievance is usually related to the interpretation, application or administration of the Corporation's rule/policies.

9.2 Methods of Raising Grievances

Informal:

Before embarking on formal grievance procedures, employees shall be encouraged to raise concerns informally with their respective General Manager/ Divisional Incharge as soon as the problem occurs. The General Manager/ Divisional Incharge is responsible to have an Open-Door Policy to address any complaints of their employees or set up an anonymous complaint box in case the complainant wants to keep their identity discrete/confidential.

Formal:

If employee(s) is not satisfied with the resolution provided through the informal process, he/she can raise a formal grievance by submitting a Grievance Request to the General Manager Human Resource Division which shall be documented in the records of the involved parties as well as it shall be added to the Human Resource records.

9.3 Procedure for Informal Complaint Resolutions

If an employee's grievance involves his/her General Manager/ Divisional Incharge, in that case such an employee shall reach out to the General Manager Human Resource Division for the resolution/complaint redressal and shall seek to agree on an appropriate and effective solution through informal means.

If a resolution cannot be agreed or is ineffective, the grievance progresses to the formal stage, and the context of which shall be mentioned in the formal grievance request.

At any stage of the informal procedure, the employee reserves the right to request that the grievances be handled formally. There may be situations where the employee feels it is necessary to go straight to formal procedures.

9.4 Procedure for Formally Filed Grievance

a) Statement of Grievance

When an employee wishes to submit a formal grievance, he/she shall follow the below mentioned guideline:

- Write a grievance application without any delay and submit it through hard/soft copy to all the members of Grievance Redressal Committee.
- The grievance shall be based on facts without any personal bias and grudges.

b) Grievance Redressal Committee

A Grievance Redressal Committee shall be formed to process the formally filed grievances neutrally and in a fair manner while maintaining confidentiality and integrity of the concerned parties. The committee shall be responsible to decide whether a thorough investigation is required on the grievance filed by the employee. The committee shall not be less than three (03) persons comprising of the following:

Note: In case the Employees ranging from Grade I-V are raising the grievance, the GRC shall include General Secretary of the Union Committee.

c) Investigation

Investigating Officer (if initiates the investigation) shall be responsible for finding out the key facts and compiling a report for GRC along with the minutes of the entire investigation phase, in case meeting(s)/session(s) is arranged with the involved parties. This shall ensure that the relevant and accurate facts are collected, and potential resolution is identified. The Investigating officer shall be responsible to prepare minutes of the meetings throughout the investigation phase. GRC shall arrange grievance review of the outcomes hearing as per the outcomes/recommendations of the report.

Investigating officer shall submit a comprehensive report to GRC not later than seven (07) working days, which shall help the committee to evaluate the case on its merits.

- Copies of evidence relevant to the complaint (if any).
- Witness verbatim/statements (if any).
- Summary of the findings/recommendations.

d) Outcome/Conclusion

The GRC shall finalize its formal proceedings within five (05) days to reach an outcome/conclusion. The written report developed by GRC shall contain outcome of the grievance with the signatories of all the members of the committee and shall be sent out within three (03) days upon concluding the case in the form of letter/E-mail to the competent authority.

The letter/E-mail shall include the outcome/conclusion, recommended actions that shall be taken, or agreement reached with the involved parties (if any) whether or not it is in favor of the grievant.

e) Course of Action

The competent authority based on the outcome/conclusion submitted by the GRC shall provide a decision/verdict with further course of action in accordance with the relevant applicable rules. Either party can request a review against the outcome/conclusion of the grievance.

f) Request for Review

If, however, the decision of competent authority is not accepted by the person(s) filing the complaint, the request for review (if any) shall be submitted to General Manager Human Resource Division within three (03) working days from the date of receiving the decision of the Grievance and the same shall be referred to Chairman TCP whose decision shall be final and binding on all parties.

9.5 Key Consideration in Grievance/ Complaint Redressal

While processing a Grievance/Complaint, the following shall be considered:

- Every complaint shall be treated with respect and importance.
- A complaint shall not be put off in the hopes that the other party would "see the light" on their own.
- A written complaint is required to be filed in order to raise it as a formal grievance.
- Management shall obtain pertinent information regarding a complaint to establish facts, perform necessary investigation while keeping accurate records.
- Management shall compile a list of all potential/viable solutions and then assess each one individually in terms of how it shall affect the overall Corporation.
- When deciding on any grievance investigation and hearing, the Grievance Redressal Committee shall always provide their verdict/decision consistently with previous decisions around similar grievances.
- Management shall inform the employee of the decision made and take appropriate action and not unreasonably delay in making and confirming a decision following a grievance hearing. The employer shall provide the grievance filer with a written outcome as soon as possible, normally within twenty-four (24) hours of that hearing.

The management shall act upon the measures to implement the decision taken after a thorough investigation process.

CHAPTER 10:

EMPLOYEE SEPARATION

CHAPTER 10 - EMPLOYEE SEPARATION

Preface

Employee separation refers to the end of employment of an employee in the Corporation. The reasons of the employee separation shall be taken in consideration by the Human Resource Division to have an insight into the experience of the employee during his/her service in TCP which shall help the management of TCP to initiate the required change for better Human Resource Management.

This policy is applicable to all the employees of the Corporation.

a)The Corporation shall ensure an effective, fair and transparent employee separation cycle while maintaining a clear communication of all the important information.

a)The reporting officers shall ensure that the Corporation's assets shall be returned by the employee in good condition prior to the exit date.

a)The Corporation shall ensure that the information regarding employee separation shall remain confidential from all those employees who are not involved in the process.

a)The Corporation shall provide their employees the right for voluntary separation while ensuring a flow of thoughtful feedback and insight on the Corporation's strength and weaknesses.

Policy

- a) A permanent employee intending to resign from his/her current post/grade shall submit a letter of resignation in hard copy/soft copy at least one (01) month prior to the tentative date of separation.
- b) On approval of resignation, during the notice period of the employee his/her reporting officer shall ensure proper handing over and taking of the job responsibilities of such an employee and shall request the exit process of the employee before the agreed upon date of separation.
- c) In case an employee demands an immediate exit without serving the notice period of one (01) month, this shall be considered as a breach of the above-mentioned policy and the employee, as a result, shall pay a sum equal to his/her one (01) month's pay or the pay for that time if the notice period falls short of specified time.
- d) In case an employee on the post of Grade-VI and above decides to resign for whatsoever reasons during the probationary period shall serve a notice period of one (01) month or surrender an amount equal to his/her one (01) month's pay instead.
- e) The Corporation reserves the right to terminate the employee by giving a notice period of one (01) month in writing.
- f) No notice period shall be given to the employee if the termination is on account of proven misconduct.
- g) The summary of all the reasons of employee separation obtained through exit interviews shall be properly documented and forwarded to Board Human Resource Committee (BHRC) for further processing.

10.1 Types of Employee Separation

Employee separation may occur in the below mentioned cases:

a) RESIGNATION

Resignation, initiated by a permanent employee may be due to below set forth reasons:

• Professional Reasons

An employee may resign from service of the Corporation when he/she decides to explore new work opportunities for their career development and advancement outside the Corporation. Through resignation, they want to expand their realm of knowledge, competencies, skills, and experience by working in various other positions/organizations.

• Personal Reasons

An employee may resign from the Corporation due to any personal reasons whenever he/she feel necessary. Personal Reasons might include relocation for any reasons, medical complications, maternity, child parenting or any other reasons whatsoever that may not allow an employee to continue the employment in the Corporation.

Procedure

- The employee is required to submit a signed resignation to the General Manager / Divisional Head of the concerned division for approval. Subject to the completion of the assigned tasks of the specific employee, once the resignation is endorsed, it is sent to the Human Resource Division.
- Human Resource Division after seeking approval from the Chairman TCP intimates the finance division about the approved resignation and date of separation for running further processes required during the notice period of the resignee.

- The resignee upon completion of the notice period as per policy, shall be provided with an employee separation form (attached in Annexure W) for clearance from all the related/concerned divisions.
- After clearance from all the divisions, the employee separation form (attached in Annexure W) shall be submitted to the Human Resource division. The Human Resource Division shall then complete the necessary paperwork and initiates a request to the Finance/Accounts Division for final settlement of the separating employee.
- Subsequently, an exit interview of the employee shall be conducted by Human Resource Division using the form (attached in Annexure-A). However, if the employee is a part of senior management, the exit interview shall be conducted by Executive Director Administration and Management Services.
- Employee's service rendered to the Corporation shall be appreciated through providing him/her an experience certificate on the Corporation's letterhead.

b) RETIREMENT

Retirement in the Corporation occurs when a permanent employee reaches the age of superannuation which is sixty (60) years that shall allow him/her to avail all the retiring benefits. Those appointed on deputation basis shall be governed by their contract.

When an employee reaches the age of superannuation, the employee and the General Manager / Divisional Head of the concerned division are informed three (03) months prior by the Human Resource Division.

➤ Early Retirement

With the prior approval of Chairman TCP on the completion of twenty five (25) years of service of employees from Grade-I to Grade-V in the Corporation, hold the right to request early retirement excluding the period of extra ordinary leaves granted at any time and shall be entitled for the post-retirement medical facilities and leave encashment facilities, if any, which otherwise shall have been provided to them if they had retired on the completion of superannuation age. However, the retiring benefits shall be granted subject to the condition that these employees are not involved in any misconduct, disciplinary or criminal proceeding or any fraudulent activity.

A committee shall also be constituted by the Management including a representative of CBA to examine the matter and make recommendations for early retirement.

The Board in case of employees of Grade-VII to X and in the case of other employees, the Chairman TCP may approve the retirement of an employee at any time after he has completed twenty (20) years of service.

Procedure

- In case the employee retires on superannuation age, the Human Resource Division directs the employee to complete the necessary exit formalities and submit all the mandatory information required by the concerned divisions.
- In the case an employee wants to avail early retirement after completing of required service, he/she shall write an application to the concern Head of

TRADING CORPORATION OF PAKISTAN (PVT.) LIMITED

Chapter: Employee Separation

Division / General Manager mentioning the date of early retirement. The Divisional Head / General Manager shall submit the approved application in Human Resource Division for the proceedings of exit formalities.

- The Human Resource Division forwards the application to the concerned authorities (Board in case of employees ranging from Grade-VII to X and Chairman TCP in case of all other employees) and obtains approval for the case of early retirement.
- Subsequently, the employee shall be provided with an employee separation form (attached in Annexure-W) for clearance from all the related/concerned divisions and makes sure they approve the submission of all the necessary information and documents and submits the employee separation form to the Human Resource Division.
- Then, the Human Resource Division shall conduct exit interview form (attached in Annexure V) of the retiring employee. If the employee is part of the senior management, the exit interview is conducted by the Executive Director Administration and Management Services.
- The retirement benefits i.e., provident fund gratuity any other benefits, if deemed necessary are calculated and forwarded to the Finance Division for further processing and disbursement for the final settlement.
- The Human Resource Division updates the company's employment records with effect to this retirement.
- Lastly, employee's service rendered to the Corporation shall be appreciated through providing him/her an experience certificate on the Corporation's letterhead.

c) TERMINATION

Termination is an involuntary separation of an employee on the discretion of the management of TCP. It might be due to the following reasons:

- Continued Unsatisfactory Performance
- Due to disciplinary proceedings
- Prolonged absence without any leave
- Layoff / Downsizing/restructuring/abolishment

Procedure

- If the performance of an employee appointed against a permanent post, after completing the probationary period is found unsatisfactory in three (03) consecutive Annual Performance Evaluations, and no improvement is shown even after the written and verbal warnings escalated twice by the Human Resource Division, the employee shall be demoted or terminated with a notice period provided by the Corporation subject to the discretion of Chairman TCP.
- In case a contractual employee fails to show good performance in next due consecutive annual performance evaluations depending on the period he's appointed for, the Efficiency and Discipline rules shall apply.

- If the performance of an employee appointed against a permanent post is found unsatisfactory during the probation period, the confirmation/termination of the employment of such an employee shall be subject to the discretion of management of TCP with the approval of Chairman TCP.
- In case of misconduct, the Human Resource Division shall counsel before the situation escalates without having the requirement to use the disciplinary procedure. Where there is any improvement area identified, the employee shall be informed about the expectations and eliminating the shortcomings while clearly communicating the time provided for such improvement.
- In this process, the employee shall be clearly informed about the formal disciplinary actions that shall be taken, as the Corporation shall be responsible to take necessary actions against its employees.
- However, if no further improvement is shown by the employee, the Human Resource Division issues a formal written warning to the employee. During this period, the employee shall be given a reasonable time required to improve their performance.
- In case of no improvement, the Human Resource Division shall process the case for approval of the competent authority for initiating necessary proceedings as per the Efficiency and Discipline Rules. Decision of the competent authority shall be final in this regard.

d) DEATH

Death is an involuntary separation of an employee from the Corporation where an employee expires during the service.

Procedure

The Human Resource Division shall inform the dependents of the employee about the submission of all the necessary documents required for the completion of the separation process of the deceased employee. The necessary documents are as follows:

- a) Death Certificate
 - b) CNIC / Passport
 - c) Health / Life Insurance Documents (if any)
 - d) Final Settlement of loans / Corporation's assets
- The Human Resource Division shall fill a clearance form and circulates it amongst the other divisions.
 - Human Resource Division shall forward the status/details upto the date of death of Provident fund, gratuity, leave encashment (if applicable) and other related benefits to finance division for final calculation.

Finance Division shall be responsible for disbursement of final settlement. The final settlement shall be handed over to the dependents of the departed employee.

Note: The son/daughter/spouse of the deceased employees shall be given an opportunity to be appointed in the Corporation on any post if they fulfill the minimum eligibility criteria.*
